

I am strongly opposed to the CBA's request to impose the federal exemption on Indiana consumers. Conducting business with one of these entities should not give them the right to intrude on my personal time. This does not limit their ability to communicate, only the method by which they do so. Consumer rights should come first!